TPH ENVIRONMENTAL

TPH is proud of our efforts to lead the print industry in environmental sustainability. Our commitment is reflected in our daily practices of reducing waste, recycling what we cannot use, and purchasing products only from suppliers who share our principles of environmental protection. Our selection of responsibly sourced materials makes responsible forest management something your organization can be proud of and can showcase to your customers.

As a result of our environmental initiatives, The Printing House was recognized as the most sustainable and forest friendly printer in North America, by Canopy in their 2020 Blueline Report. Our commitment to the environment has led to our designation as Ancient Forest Friendly™ by Canopy. Your company will benefit from using trademarks on printed products that let customers know your print comes from responsible sources. Our company was also selected as one of Canada's Greenest Employers . The award is presented by Mediacorp Canada Inc. and recognizes employers that lead the nation in creating a culture of environmental awareness.

CERTIFICATIONS & AFFILIATIONS

When you choose Chain of Custody certified stock, you know that the product measures up to third party standards and criteria for responsible forest management, manufacturing and distribution. Any product bearing a Chain of Custody label is one that has been sourced from a responsibly managed forest. These certifications prove the origins of the paper we source to ensure that we are not getting our paper from illegally logged forests or forests with significant conservation value. TPH can also pass on our designation as Ancient Forest Friendly™ by Canopy Planet. This logo can be used as long as the paper selection aligns with paper procurement policies and specific standards. The Ancient Forest Friendly designation represents the highest ecological qualities in the paper industry. Ancient Forest Friendly pulp and paper is free of ancient or endangered forest fibre, made with 100% recycled or straw paper, and is whitened without chlorine.
